Find my answers below and headshot attached.

What is your name?

Dr. Tigress Sydney Acute McDaniel, JD ... of course the titles don't appear on my birth certificate lol but I definitely answer to Dr. and most typically Tigress lmao

What is your occupation?

Doctoral Scientist and Economist, Business Owner and Lawyer pursuing clerkship and license to practice law (in California first)

Why are you running?

To liaise the will of Charlotteans toward greater good, inclusivity, belonging and equity, and positively exploit the mayoral seat to influence legislative reform, advocate for civil rights and DEI, stabilize our local economy, achieve environmental sustainability goals, reduce crime, inspire community oneness, eradicate public corruption and improve quality of life.

What is the most important issue and how do you plan to address it?

Democracy and oneness, because all else as to why I'm running follows naturally or otherwise more easily therefrom.

How are you voting on the sales tax increase referendum for transit and why?

I've been very vocal about this. (If permitted please include the link to my post regarding the same; otherwise please exclude this parenthetical clause: <https://www.facebook.com/share/p/1CDJFPZzcR/>) I cannot deny that money and even MORE money is necessary for infrastructural development and upfit. However, I vehemently reject the abuse of money; reality is that this tax referendum, & PAVE Act from which it arises, is another show of budgetary incompetence. The bill is already ratified. We STILL have so many projects to complete for our city goals. I'm conflicted. Then, there's the TEI component

(Trump, Elon & Insurrectionists); the tax referendum lines the pockets of Carolinas AGC & similarly non-DEI construction companies. If they'd only do what they've said they'd do and "right" the first time, they can very likely still remain rich. But we can't keep voting YES for taxes and borrowing billions, and Charlotte still looks like it's in a forever recession.

Do you support Charlotte City Council's settlement with CMPD Chief Johnny Jennings? Why or why not?

We need more disclosure before any such determination can be made affirmatively, but generally no - specifically as to the pattern poor relations between city government and high level officials. From the lens of a Juris Doctorate and thus a lawyer (pursuing license to practice), settlements work that way - and are NOT an indication of admission of liability and instead a private contract allowed by law for parties to resolve their dispute(s). The issue here, of course, is that there's a bigger picture at play for which affected city officials and the public at large "deserve/d" to know what happened.

How should Charlotte City Council address working conditions and pay issues raised by the SEIU at Charlotte Douglas International Airport?

All the things: (1) reaffirm the importance of unions to our communities and advocate for living wages, (2) urging employers not to interfere with employee free choice, (3) issue public statements and make proclamations that set the cultural standard for our city in support of the SEIU, (4) honor picket lines, (5) attend and speak at rallies, sponsor public forums, and otherwise support workers' right to organize, (6) prioritize worker safety and retention, and (7) advocate and sponsor or co-sponsor the CASE (Charlotte Acting for Safety and Efficiency) ordinance.

What sets you apart from your opponents?

My unrivaled interdisciplinary academia and professional expertise and experience, aptitude, competence, pragmatism, objectivity, ethical rigor, joy, fortitude, grit, humility, humanity and enlightenment sets me apart.

Please confirm receipt.

Thank you,

Tigress
